

ADAM LEITMAN BAILEY, P.C. SENDS LITTLE-LEAGUE FOOTBALL TEAM FROM HURRICANE-RAVAGED FAR ROCKAWAYS TO SEE THE NEW YORK JETS

Outside the stadium, The Rockaway Ravens hold up a sign that says "Thank You Adam Leitman Bailey! Go Jets!"

Rockaway Ravens Sports, Inc. is a not-for-profit organization located in the Rockaway community, one of the areas of New York City that was most devastated by Hurricane Sandy. However, during this difficult time, Rockaway Ravens Sports gave the community solace and comfort in the aftermath by rallying around these young players.

The Ravens and Adam Leitman Bailey, P.C. both believe strongly in the concept that sports are not just fun and games; they are a basis for building a solid foundation and instilling that with enough hard work, anything is obtainable.

Adam Leitman Bailey, P.C. was thrilled to provide the means for the young Rockaway Raven Tiny Mighty's, one of the teams that was particularly uplifting to the Rockaway Community, to see NFL team The New York Jets play at MetLife Stadium. The Tiny Mighty's reported that they had a great time and sent a big "thank you" to Adam Leitman Bailey, P.C. for making it possible.

The Rockaway Ravens' view from the end zone at MetLife Stadium.

The Rockaway Raven Tiny Mighty's on the field during their practice in the Far Rockaways.